

Battle of Okehazama 1560 - Dengakuhazama Gorge

After his army's success at capturing the Oda border forts of Marune and Washizu, the Imagawa army and its commander Yoshimoto took time to rest and celebrated their victories in a wooded gorge called Dengakuhazama. Nobunga, hearing of this, quickly set into motion a plan to surprise the enemy's camp. He first set up a dummy army with hundreds of Oda flags on a nearby hill top, and then lead 3000 men around behind the Imagawa camp. A thunderstorm cover his movement and when the storm subsided the Oda force fell on the camp. Yoshimoto was killed in his Command tent and the Imagawa troops fled in all directions. The stage is set, the battle lines are drawn, and you are in command. The rest is history.
